5 Answer Key Pdf

in most forms of the leaves, the experience is transcribed as the
learner dictates it,
without transcriber
corrections to grammar or vocabulary. This technique keeps the
focus on the content
rather than the form of what is written and provides concrete
evidence of the
learner's language
growth over time (Heald-Taylor, 1989). Errors
can be corrected later, during revising and

editing stages of the writing process. the relationship between the transcriber and learner should be well established before attempting the lea, and the transcriber should be supportive of what the learner has to say.
